What:

The enormous world of internet pornography continues to invade our culture, and the statistics are staggering: 40 million Americans are regular visitors to porn sites. To stand against this problem, we need to be informed and equipped with all possible resources. Dr. Rossi will walk through the spiritual issues that pull so many toward Internet pornography – lack of stillness and personal accountability, isolation, as well as the problem of 'revolving door' confession that only aids such behavior. Dr. Rossi will lead a discussion on how to deal with those root issues, and also recommended sources of help for those dealing with an Internet pornography addiction or compulsion, and resources for those trying to help others deal with their addiction.
